

Anatomy of a Royalty System

Technology – Systems Architecture

Dave,

I wanted to let you know that the March royalty payout was a success. We have completed our payout today with very little issues. There were a few with problems but we are researching these now and will contact you next week. This was the smoothest and most efficient payout we had since going live in Royalty Tracker. Please thank everyone on your team for their assistance and for making this payout a success.

Now I am looking forward to our April payout
